Accommodations

First place of accommodation

You will stay your first two nights in St Emilion. The mahogany room will be booked for you at Belles Perdrix on the Château Troplong Mondot wine estate. The building is surrounded by vines and is an idyllic place to stay. The vineyard is one of St Emilion's top 18 – a Premières Grand Cru Classé St Emilion and is located a 5 minute drive, or a nice 25 minute walk, away from St Emilion town centre. There is an outdoor pool for your use and the Château also has its own Michelin-starred restaurant where you could choose to upgrade to dine on your second night if you wished.

Second place of accommodation

For your last two nights in the region we suggest that you stay in Bordeaux city centre offering you good access to the Médoc as well as Pessac-Leognan. Further to our discussion about your specific preferences in accommodation we are pleased to confirm that you will stay at Hotel de Sèze. It has been created within the exterior of a lovely 18th century building in the heart of Bordeaux city centre a stone's throw from the Grand Theatre. If one was to be critical it could be levied that things are executed in a rather formulaic manner, but this should also be taken as a compliment in that everything is done consistently well. The decor and furnishings don't have a creaky French charm about them but they are solid and do the job well. You will stay in one of their moderately-sized but very comfortable superior rooms. Breakfasts are included, as are all taxes. More or less costly rooms could be booked here if you would prefer.

Car Hire

Car hire of a medium-sized manual transmission hire car such as a Toyota Auris is included in the quote. The exact model cannot be guaranteed but will be of this size and class. Car hire includes unlimited mileage, collision damage and third party liability for one driver. Damage excess levels can be reduced upon collection of the car for a nominal sum.

Pricing

The cost of the self-drive holiday itinerary as described on the previous page is 1,890€ per person.

The cost of all specified meals, vineyard visits, tours, tastings, wine class, accommodation, breakfasts, car hire (of an intermediate sized manual transmission car the size of a Toyota Auris), and a personalised touring guidebook and accompanying GPS are covered by Gourmet Touring.
